What a marvelous book, full of flowing, meticulously detailed, flawlessly balanced, intricate concentric patterns in circle form. Every single illustration in this book is captivating and you will want to color all of them. Angie Grace's illustrations in this book bring out your imagination, stimulate your senses and creativity, and as you become engaged in the enjoyable activity of Coloring, it calms you and almost immediately starts reducing your stress level. This book is a perfect addition to your coloring library, a perfect gift older children, college students, or adults who enjoy coloring, and a much easier way to reduce stress than going to the gym. 1. This lovely square book is 8 1/2" x 8 1/2", with 50 (6 1/2" to 7") circular, balanced, very detailed illustrations, which are printed one per page, the back side of each page is blank. 2. The paper is about twice as heavy as good printer paper,³. I tested Fiskars Gel Pens, and both Crayola and Prisma colored pencils worked well, the colors laid down bright and smoothly making this a joy to color. The Fiskars Gel Pens did not bleed through.⁴. Irma Scribbler Get Ink Pens, Sharpie ultra fine markers, Pentel fine point markers, Bic it ultra fine markers and Crayola markers leach through the paper, so test your color medium then if it bleeds through just put an extra piece of paper behind the page you are coloring and leave it there until your picture is dry. They work well and create beautiful images, and very interesting images on the back where they leach through the paper. I like the back even better than the front on some image. The illustrations in this book are the same size as in many larger coloring books. The last colored picture is colored with Bic Mark it ultra fine markers.

The reviews about this book are accurate. It is amazing. There are both larger and smaller patterns in this book. I'm using gel pens (www.amzn.com/B000S161FO) and markers (www.amzn.com/B000OZQAYG) depending on the size of the coloring space and would highly suggest having a larger and smaller coloring material option. I'm seeing very little ink bleeding through the paper but cut a piece of freezer paper to the size of the book that I fit behind the page I'm working on just in case. I find I'm spending 3-4 hours per page. I'm also finding that coloring is harder as an adult than when you're young. My neck is so sore from holding my big head up at that weird coloring angle.

My aunt bought me this for my birthday because she knew I loved my adult coloring books. At first I did not think I would like it because of how tiny and detailed all of the little spaces were. However, it gave me a perfect opportunity to use all of my pretty gel pens that I love to collect! I have really enjoyed coloring in this book and I enjoy the work that goes into finishing each one drawing. I will often work on the same picture for a week or two before I finish it. I've included some photos of ones that I have completed. Hope you enjoy!

Many thanks to Angie Grace for creating these intricate designs for adults to color. It's a terrific way to tap into one's creativity with gel pens and a willingness to let the subconscious mind take over. The non-verbal, right side of my brain must be filling these in because I feel surprised by the finished product every time! Hours go by as I completely relax into Angie's "stress menders." I recommend using Fiskars 48 Gel Pens with these because they flow smoothly and don't bleed through the pages. What a great alternative to watching TV or playing with my iPhone! My husband jokes that he's become a "coloring widower." Maybe he'll eventually join the fun.

Already finished coloring the designs I like. As far as the designs I like, Angie Grace gets it right. I don't care for a lot of open space to color, but a little of both worlds, mostly small and a little of the big spaces are my preference. When I color 90% of the book, it's a good one to me. Hours of being mesmerized. Would really like to see Balance II.

Received my book today, and immediately started a page tonight. I bought Staedtler triplus fineliner pens/markers and they don't bleed through to the next page. Very relaxing, and gets your brain working! Love it! There are 50 pages, all different enough. They're mostly circular designs but some are more square.

Though addicting for many of us, coloring mandalas is fantastically relaxing. This is a relatively new adult coloring mandala book and it is already very popular with beautiful inspiring uploaded images. There will never be any two alike - that's the pure joy of taking the opportunity to add our personal artistic vibe to each mandala. Here in this book we are offered 50 unique and intricate mandalas; there are no repeats. Each design is printed on a dedicated page, one mandala per page. This book is a bit smaller than other coloring books: 8-1/2"x8-1/2" with the designs inside approximately 7-1/2"x7-1/2". I prefer to personal use copy to enlarge by 20% each page onto 80 lb. 8-1/2"x11" paper. This also helps keep undue ink absorption occurring when using markers. I use a combination of gel pens, Copic markers and sometimes Blick soft core pencils for shading. Highly recommend having some creative fun while relaxing.
