Customer Reviews

This review is for the Moleskine 2014 Daily Planner, 12 Month, Pocket, Red, Hard Cover (3.5 x 5.5). The quality is very high although only time will tell if the binding holds up for an entire year. The cover is of a hard material rather than a flexible material and smooth to the touch. The pages are lined and of a material that stands up to fountain pen ink (I tested using Noodler's Permanent Black and there was no bleed through). Although listed as a "Planner" it also works very well as a daily diary; each day has a spot for the daily temperatures and weather conditions. There is a removable section with tabbed pages (and sheets of assorted labels) that can be used as a telephone directory, birthday reminders, etc. There is a pocket in the back of the diary for holding small items, such as daily receipts for fuel, meals, etc. In the front of the diary there is a section for personal data (name, address, etc.), monthly views of 2014 and 2015, a page for travel planning and travel notes, a world time zone chart, a flight durations page, a world telephone dialing code page, a measures and conversions page, a page for international clothes sizes, there is a fabric ribbon for holding one's place and an elastic ribbon for holding the diary closed. While not hand bound in top grade cowhide this diary is nevertheless a class act and if it holds up throughout the year as Moleskine products generally do it is a bargain at the price. Regards, Jim

I have purchased this product for about five years in a row now. I forgot that it sells out at the local Chapters store and didn't get there in time to purchase one. I am thrilled to see one here. :) Of all the years that I have purchased this "notebook", 2013 is the only one when the binding did not hold. The cover separated from the rest but I tend to be very rough on it taking it in and out of my purse all year. The cover separated in late October however the glue and sewing holding the pages together held and I used it the entire year with no issues. The previous 4 years I had one, they held together. I still have a couple of my old ones and they are still together. I will be purchasing this again. This is also considerably cheaper than the price in my local Chapters store.

Great product in a friendly size. Love having the single pages to write my daily schedule, plus the marker and elastic band to keep it together. Well-constructed with nice to touch paper, the daily planner feels good in the hands. Love, love, love!

It's a very nice daily planner, excellent quality as all the moleskine products, but regarding the Star Wars things it didn't fulfill my expectations. The only thing related to SW is the cover, which is beautiful, but the rest it has nothing about it, simple sheets and 2 small sheets of stickers (which by the way aren't very nice) Still recommended Usually my pocket calendar has little squares, this one has full pages. I also like to make lists to keep myself on task, so this one is very handy and has plenty of room. I use the blank 'Sunday' page for ideas/imaginings. It is thicker and heavier than my previous calendars, but I am already use to it. I don't use phones or computers for notes, etc, I use paper and pencil, this is better than my old calendars by far.

Best planner! Love the notes I can add next to my weekly calendar along with the tabbed note section in back and place to put business cards or what ever else.

This thing is cool but a bit of a brick to carry around. I'd buy one again, but with 7 days per page rather than a page per day.

I get one every year, and write daily on every page. Excellent binding for long term journaling. Highly recommended, great value.
