This is a wonderful book filled with many Christian-based designs. I also want to mention immediately that it is one of the best made coloring books that I have purchased but more about that later. The actual designs have a beautiful, hand-drawn sketch look and feel to them. In addition to the 50 designs, there are bookmarks and cards you can color and cut out. The book is definitely geared towards females as all the figures in the book are girls. However, many of the designs can easily be colored by all as they are gender neutral. My husband colors as well and he likes many of the designs in this book, too. What I love about the book is that almost every one of the designs is Christian-based. Many Christian coloring books only devote one third or so of the design pages to providing a Christian message. This one is packed full of designs meant to inspire and encourage. While it may have been meant for a younger target audience, I find that as an adult, I am happy to color these designs as well. The book is very well made. The cover is extremely strong hardboard. It is printed on one side only of heavyweight perforated paper. The binding is at the top and is spiral bound. The print quality is excellent and dark. I really appreciate this binding as you can flip to any page and have access to the entire design. The cover then becomes a portable desk which allows you to color easily when on-the-go. While I am not a lefty, spiral bound works fantastic for them as they don't have to color over the hump of the binding. A few of the designs extend beyond the perforations, which is a little frustrating. I won't remove these from the book as I will lose a bit of the design if I do. This could be easily solved in future additions to this series by sizing the design to fit below the perforations. This is printed on fantastic paper. None of my markers bled through and that includes all of my alcohol-based markers. Gel pens worked fantastic as well and did not bleed through or leave shadows at the back. Coloring pencils worked nicely as well and behaved according to their type of lead (soft/hard core.) These are the coloring medium that I use for testing. If there is something else you feel I should be testing, please let me know and I will see if I can add it to my growing pile: Markers: 1) alcohol-based Copic Sketch, Prismacolor double ended markers (brush and fine point), Sharpies (fine and ultra-fine) and 2) water-based Tombows dual end markers (brush and fine point), Stabilo 88, Staedler triplus fineliners, and Pentel markers Gel Pens: Sakura, Fiskars, Uni-ball Signo 0.38/0.28 and Tekwriter Coloring Pencils: Prismacolor Premier Soft Core, Derwent Colorsoft, Prismacolor Verithins, and Faber-Castel Polychromos

I bought this Book for Girls for my nine year old granddaughter and "The Word" (by Christian Art) for myself. I also purchased a large gel pen set. Today we spent most of the day together and we both loved these wonderful flip top, hardcover books. We colored together for three hours! This book is affordable and has wonderful messages for young girls to ponder. The pages are nice and heavy compared to other books I have looked at. I will definitely buy more as gifts for all the girls I know. This photo is of the first page of The Word...don't hesitate on either of these beautiful Christian Art books.

I bought this for my 8 year old daughter to color during church. I figure if she is going to be coloring, at least it can be something with a scripture or at least positive thought on the page. Its been two months and she is a little bored of it finally. It has been the only coloring book she has used - other than this she uses plain paper. So, the fact that she has been coloring in it that long is quite impressive, We have a whole shelf of coloring books that have barely been used. We only used crayons and colored pencils. It probably works for markers, but I don't know about bleed through. There is only one image on each side of the page. I found the book mark and card pages a little annoying because they were not perforated and the first time she tried to use it, she didn't tell me until she tore the bookmark and 'ruined' it. We fixed it with tape. I can see some of these being enjoyed by LOVE, LOVE, LOVE this book! Will be buying many more for all the lovely girls in my life. Cover is textured. Pics are on heavy, perforated paper and the pics are darling. Christian Arts Kids . . . we want MORE!!

I have purchased many adult coloring books on for grandchildren, adult friends etc. This one has great quality paper and cute designs to color. Some of the images might be a little small for younger children but it was perfect for my 8 year old granddaughter who loves every kind of craft. We enjoy coloring together. This one has perforated pages and very high quality paper.

I ordered these for my daughters and they just love them! The pictures are awesome and the messages are even greater! Thank you so much!

I ordered this for my four-year-old to use while I do my Bible time. She loves it! There are 50 pages in this. Pages are blank on the back. They are all adorable. Some pages have bookmarks or smaller pictures that can be cut out. I love the hard cover. A great way to start a child in a creative form of worship.

These are the best things to give as gifts. At first, I questioned myself in buying it, but it turned out to be the best gift for my 30 year old niece. She loved it!!! She brought it to Easter Dinner weeks after I had given it to her to show me she was coloring the pages and enjoyed doing so.
