Customer Reviews

This series has graced my kitchen for many years, and I always look forward to displaying the beautiful images in this calendar. Each month features a classic teapot from tea company archives or a private collection, perfectly staged with flowers, food, and appropriate historic details. Most of these are formal, but the calendar usually includes a few exceptions -- perhaps a child's tea or a "below-stairs" cook's tea, all presented with the same care. Every corresponding calendar page below the photo offers a charming quote and an informative paragraph about tea service or trade. All in all, it's a beauty and a bargain. Simply looking at the pictures provides a satisfying sense of well-being, a respite from everyday chores and obligations. It's almost as good as sitting down in the scene myself.

I have been buying this calendar from Workman for many years. It never disappoints and is full of beautiful photos and wonderful historical commentary. As a tea lover - I thoroughly this calendar.

This calendar is a joy every year and the 2014 edition doesn't disappoint. If you love teapots and tea, this is the calendar for you. It is a pleasure to use every day of the year. Beautiful teapots and loads of tea information.

I have bought the Collectible Teapot calendars for several years. In addition to the photo pages of twelve vintage and rare teapots and their accompanying cups, each calendar page contains a quote, information about the pot/cups pictured, and other interesting information about various tea cakes and accessories. The photographs are beautiful. Anyone who enjoys a good cup of tea, or who is interested in vintage items, would love this calendar.

This is my favorite calendar and have bought for many years. The photos speak for themselves. Very interesting tea displays!

I buy this calendar for myself and 2 friends each year. We all look forward to seeing the beautiful teapot of the month. The narration at the side explains the pot and more. I have saved all of my calendars for the past 10 plus years and so do my friends. Please don't ever stop making this calendar, it is so beautiful.

I chose the rating because I really love the quality of the calendar...(which I gave to myself for New Years). and the histories and information on each page about the history of tea and tea pots and the great photos!

Every year I buy this calendar. Each month has a beautiful table setting featuring a collectable tea pot, and a brief history of tea and tea pots. I frequently have friends over for tea, and they always admire the tea pot of the month
