I ordered these along with a set of boys doodle books because my kids, ages 4 & 6, enjoy other doodle books we've bought. In general, the images in these types of books are advanced artistically for the preschool/elementary age group, but spark a lot of imagination, are fun to do for the whole family or with multiple kids, and allow lots of room to embellish & get creative with scrapbook materials and various art supplies. I planned on using this particular set for birthday party gifts. However, I'm confused by the design of this product, which seems to be both marketed to both young girls and older ones. Many of the images to continue coloring and designing are elaborate and beautiful, and appropriate for young girls (butterflies, woodlands, flowers, snowflakes, etc.), but the pictures depicting actual girls are of teenagers who seem a bit too sexy and media-centric for what I'd want my young daughter to emulate. Plus, several pages focus on looks & material items (decorate/design swim suits, nails, designer shoes, dresses, tights, earrings, etc.), but none focus on thoughts, ideas, learning, reading, etc. I'm not sure if I'll feel this is an appropriate gift for a girl under teen aged years (or really any girl who might glean a skewed idea of what a girl should be by the subtle messaging depicted on some of the pages). Interestingly, the boys books have images of a variety of things boys (and girls) might be into plan and simple, with no odd images of slightly sexy teenage boys or "draw the blushing groom" pictures. Would be nice if we could send a similar message to our girls - one of creativity and intelligence plan and simple.

My daughters, ages 7 and 9, both love coloring in these books with fun gel pens! We have purchased Girls' World of Doodles as gifts for their friends because they are such a hit! Sparkly gel pens make coloring in this book even more fun! Love this item!

I thought my daughter would love this book since she's been doodling on her papers at school but it's a little too complex for her. I think it would suit her better when she's a little older, perhaps by the 5th grade. She prefers another "doodling" book that I bought that just focuses on making different kinds of letters.

I saw this book at Wal-Mart and was pretty dang impressed by how creative and well-made it was. (The pages are nice and heavy, unlike most coloring books.) But considering I am not a 1) mother, 2) aunt, and 3) someone who even KNOWS any kids, I couldn't think of a reason to buy it. Except for myself. Which I felt (at the time) would have been silly. Well, I ended up including it in a larger book order, and you know what? It's awesome. I love to work in it for about 45 minutes before bedtime and just kind of unwind. I've always been a doodler anyway, and loved coloring books as a kid. Conclusion: buy this for your daughter, your niece, your neighbor's kid, or for yourself, even if you are legally an adult. Feel no shame! Doodle on, people!

love this little book. My daughter who is 5 is already having a blast with it. I bought a 50 marker set to go with it and my little artist could not have been happier. I love how it encourages creativity and gives them an idea of how they could illustrate and leaves the rest to their imagination.

My daughter got this book (along with some gel pens) for her 9th birthday and she loves it! She enjoyed doodling in this so much that we actually bought the same book for her best friend for her 10th birthday! The girls love decorating the dresses, flowers, etc. with different colors or patterns. Really cute book!

I bought this for my 6 year old daughter who loves to draw, paint, craft, etc. She LOVES this book and has sat quietly with it for over an hour. The pages offer enough inspiration for her to get started and plenty of space for her to be creative on her own. I have found that she's taken some of the techniques and used them on other drawings on her own. I wish there were more versions of this book....I'd get them all. I'm going to get her the boy version because she's almost done with this one. If you have a creative little one who enjoys drawing/coloring, get this one!

I ordered this book for my granddaughter, she is very artistic, I ordered this gel pen set to go with it. Fiskars 12-27457097 Gel Pen, 48-Piece Value Set They arrived yesterday, I was very surprised when I saw the size of the book, it's huge! I'm sending it to another country, so it's going to be really expensive to mail, the pens too. After opening the book, I wasn't sorry I'd bought it, I know my granddaughter will love the art inside, and she'll have fun adding her own with the gel pens.
